
The UC San Diego Institute for Public Health will host the 6th Annual Public Health Research Day Symposium and Poster Session, to highlight research accomplishments and real-world Public Health activities of the UC San Diego Public Health community.

This two-part event will include a Symposium and a Poster Session, the latter of which will highlight the cutting edge public health work being done by our undergraduate students, graduate students, post-doctoral fellows, research staff, and faculty.

CALL FOR ABSTRACTS:

We are now calling for poster abstract submissions. If you are interested in participating, you may submit a structured abstract via this online submission system link: Submit Abstract

SUBMISSION DEADLINE IS 11:59 p.m., MARCH 30, 2020.

Only one submission per primary author will be accepted. Abstracts should highlight recently completed research or community public health work. The abstract text must not exceed 250 words, and the Abstract must contain the following headings/content:

- Background
- Study Objectives
- Setting and Subjects
- Methods
- Results
- Conclusion

Scientific Review faculty will evaluate abstracts and make selections for the poster session. Authors will be notified of status via email to the Corresponding Author, by April 8, 2020.

If your abstract is accepted, you will be asked to create a poster to display at the event. At least one designated author or co-author will be expected to remain with their poster throughout the poster session, responding to questions from interested attendees.

If you have questions, please contact: ucsdphrd@gmail.com.

We look forward to seeing you at Public Health Research Day 2020!
