

A VIEW FROM THE VATICAN: CLIMATE CHANGE, AIR POLLUTION AND HEALTH AS OUR RESPONSIBILITY

Thursday | December 7, 2017 | 6 - 8 PM

UC San Diego Campus: MET MedEd Lower Auditorium

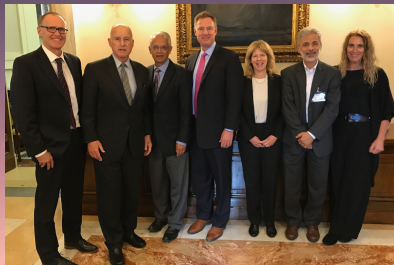

Veerabhadran Ramanathan, PhD

Wael Al-Delaimy, MD, PhD

Fonna Forman, PhD

Panel discussion facilitated by Dr. Michael Pratt

The event will reflect on the scientific deliberations by world experts on climate and air pollution, organized and chaired by Dr. V. Ramanathan of the Scripps Institution of Oceanography and held at the Vatican in November, 2017. The meeting was co-sponsored by the UC San Diego Institute for Public Health (IPH), and IPH-affiliated participants included Drs. Ramanathan, Al-Delaimy, Forman and Pratt. These UC San Diego delegates will summarize the Vatican discussions and engage in a panel discussion. This free community event is open to the public, but reservations are required.
